THE CIVIC EXPERIENCE:
COVERING THE NATION’S CAPITAL

MARCH 18, 2019

A conversation with top political journalists about reporting the news in the fast-paced, polarized climate of today’s D.C.
Hallie Jackson

Hallie Jackson is the chief White House correspondent for NBC News and an MSNBC anchor. Her reporting appears on all NBC News and MSNBC platforms, including NBC Nightly News with Lester Holt, TODAY, Meet the Press, and NBCNews.com. While covering the 2016 Republican presidential primaries, she consistently broke news and earned exclusive interviews with the candidates. She has a bachelor’s degree in political science from Johns Hopkins University.

Ed O’Keefe

Ed O’Keefe is a CBS News political correspondent who reported on Congress and national politics for The Washington Post. Over the last decade, he has covered a variety of political events and issues, including presidential campaigns, Senate and House races, federal agencies, and policies such as gun control, healthcare, and immigration. He has a bachelor’s degree in political science from American University.

Gabby Orr

Gabby Orr is a White House reporter for Politico. As a campaign reporter and then a White House correspondent for the Washington Examiner, she covered Donald Trump’s path to the presidency, from his campaign launch to his transition to the White House. She has also worked for The New York Post and Fox News. She has a bachelor’s degree in political science from George Washington University.

Shannon Pettypiece

Shannon Pettypiece is a White House correspondent for Bloomberg News. She reported for Miami Today News and Crain’s Cleveland Business before joining Bloomberg in 2006. She’s covered the Food and Drug Administration, the pharmaceutical industry, and healthcare systems in the U.S. and abroad. Her work includes a four-part series on China’s evolving healthcare industry. She has a bachelor’s degree in political science from the University of Michigan.

David Shribman

David Shribman is a Pulitzer Prize-winning political journalist and columnist who has worked for publications that include The New York Times, The Washington Post, and The Boston Globe. As the Globe’s Washington bureau chief, he earned a Pulitzer Prize in 1995 for his coverage of the national political scene. He served as executive editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette from 2003 to 2018. He has a bachelor’s degree in history from Dartmouth College.
The Civic Experience series explores how media, politics, and policy are shaping our nation’s identity.

northeastern.edu/CivicExperience